Bob's surgery

A number of us have been to see Bob Scott, and pleased to report he is recovering well under careful guidance from Frantisek. He sent me this tale ☐

When I was transferred to Intensive Care after my bypass operation last week, I woke to find the surgeon standing at the end of the bed. I only remember this very vaguely. He asked me if I was feeling any pain. To which, apparently, I cheerfully answered, "no more than if I had been listening to a John Key speech". I am told the surgeon was not entirely amused but the two nurses with him cracked up completely.

(Rev) Bob Scott

AGM highlights

The Annual general meeting came up with some resolutions to improve our church life, among them: For the Board to ☐

- review the worship and to effect change.
- investigate parking issues and to report back.
- investigate having a weekend retreat in the Coromandel in the Spring

Three new people joined the Board and Peter Jenkins stood down.

Who are these people?

Jo Drayton

She lectures in Art History at Unitec in Auckland. For her PhD at Canterbury University she studied the life and work of Edith Collier. Ngaio Marsh is the subject of her next work. Sue and Jo have recently had Wellington experiences while Jo was a national library fellow in 2007.

Nigel Bartlett

I first came to Auckland Community Church early in 2004. Impressed by the strong sense of community and spiritual integrity within the church, I became increasingly curious. I now consider ACC to be my spiritual home and, for this reason, I am delighted to offer my services as part of the board. When I am not involved in ACC, I worship at St Columba church, Grey Lynn. During the week I teach Kindergarten children for the Auckland Kindergarten Association. I also work as a masseur and healer. My interests include sustainability issues, gardening, politics, religion, cycling, swimming and railways. My family live near my home town of Bournemouth, on the South Coast of England. If would like to raise any issues or concerns regarding ACC, please feel free to contact me. I would be delighted to hear from you.

Stephen Witherden

Another techie greenie who drives a Prius, and loves the Internet. Originally from South Africa. (more about his US experiences on the the September 2007 and October 2006 Newsletters)

Thank you PJ

Peter Jenkins's contributions to our life are many and various - he is very frequently a supper preparer, he maintains our web presence, he banks the collection, he manages the googlegroups email. He has helped move us into the 21st century through technology and concern for others. As well as that he has recently been joined with Michael in a civil union, works for Telecom, and is a spokesperson and webmaster for the Sensible Sentencing Trust - probably NZ's most successful lobby group in it's area of focus. Peter was a valued board member for several years and helped with treasury and secretary functions.
